"Strong Drink Strikes at the Very Foundation of the Home."—The General
STRIDES have been made towards finally exterminating strong drink from our land. The results have been most beneficial, but the DEMON IS STILL WITH US. With subtle cunning he is worming into the home-life, thereby disturbing its sacred influence. Let us free our Canada once and for all time from this veritable SPAWN OF HELL. The future of the nation is at stake.

Editor's Desk

THE Army Mother. It will be thirty years on October 4th since Mrs. General Williams Booth was promoted to Glory, but her spirit not only permeates the rank and file of the Army but it also lives in her writings. Only today, just as we went to press, we received a letter from the managing director of a large business firm in the West which in part reads as follows:—
"Would it be possible for me to get in pamphlets from the address 'The Holy Ghost,' written by the late Mrs. Booth, for several weeks. I think this is particularly good and right to the point at the present time."
Truly it can be said of the Army Mother, "She being dead yet speaketh."

The Commissioner's twelve day campaign at Winnipeg promises to be of a most aggressive character. There will be special meetings every day, and the efforts will conclude with a great finale at the Grace Methodist Church. This final meeting will be demonstrative in character, and the South African and Indian Mission Field work will be depicted. One cannot but think that our Leader is on the right lines. There is no doubt that not only will the campaign stir up interest and result in the salvation of souls but it will prepare the way for the coming of The General. Pray for a great awakening!

It is a generally accepted fact that the home life of a nation is its foundation. If the majority of the homes of the people are centres of sobriety, of sound morals, of high principles, then the foundation of the nation is secure. Particularly does this refer to young nations, like this Canada of ours, which is in the foundation period of its history.

The laying of the foundation of a nation is an individual responsibility, a responsibility every man must be prepared to shoulder.

Anything that will undermine or tend to weaken the foundation of the nation should be combated and set aside.

Intoxicating liquor, as our front-page declares, "strikes at the very foundation of the home," and thus it strikes at the foundation of the nation, our nation, young Canada. It is every man's responsibility to fight this evil.

The Commissioner Continues His Campaign in the City

Residents of North Winnipeg Aroused by Aggressive Effort—Attendance Fine Morning and Afternoon, Capacity House at Night—Farewell of Officers for Foreign Field—North Winnipeg Band and Corps Assist—Strenuous Battle for Souls—Sixteen Surrenders

A God-Honoring Day

THE "Star" Theatre was the scene of the campaign at North Winnipeg on Sunday, Sept. 19, and the effort was productive of great good. Five Senators and a large number of Young People knelt at the Mercy-Seat in the night meeting, which closed, after a strenuous battle for souls, about 10 o'clock.
The Commissioner, who was ably assisted by Mrs. Eadie, the Chief Secretary and Mrs. Morris, Brigadiers Taylor, Phillips, McLean, Hay, and Editorial, Divisional and Training Staffs, and Cadets, was nightly up-held by the Holy Spirit throughout the day, and God visibly used him as His mouthpiece. From every standpoint this campaign was a decided improvement on the one conducted by the Commissioner in the North End some months ago. Departure from conventionalities in the morning service, and an originality of style of leadership on the part of the Commissioner, was responsible for the sustained interest and the pronounced spiritual atmosphere.

At night the Commissioner literally poured out his soul in his efforts to show men and women the error of their ways. Every seat in the theatre was filled, and many stood in the vestibule in order to hear the Leader.

The morning of Sunday, Sept. 19, freedom and frankness, they tended to further increase the informality of the service, so deeply devotional was the character of every exercise that the hour went all too quickly. It was an hour of great spiritual profit.

Farewells for Foreign Field. Among the Officers who took part in the afternoon service were Brigadier and Mrs. Edwards, who are returning shortly to India, and Captain and Mrs. Burr, who have been accepted for this Mission Field. Being assisted in the service by the Commissioner, they were most encouraging at night every seat was occupied and numbers of people were encouraged to accept of Christ, and the Commissioner's aid of necessity to be turned away.

Our Leader impressed one of that he was "warming up" to even greater efforts in the immediate future. Certainly he has the Salvation of the people laid heavily on his heart.

This was evident from his every gesture, every movement and every expression. The Commissioner had the whole-hearted co-operation of Mrs. Eadie, the Chief Secretary and other Officers present, and all concerted rejoiced at the close of the day over the results aforementioned.

"Dumb Spirit" the Hindrance. The theatre was comfortably filled in the morning with a company of devout worshippers eager after the Truth, and there was a reverent appeal in the singing.

The Commissioner gave an enlightening exposition of a portion of the Bible of John, and took the Scripture as a foundation of the doctrine of holiness of heart and life. He declared how imperative it was for the possessor of the blessing to testify to it, and emphasized the fact that such lives expression in obedience and love. The great hindrance to church today was the "dumb spirit," the lack of personal testimony to the power of Christ, the lack of personal blessing that are to be found in Christ, by their belief.

At the close of the address the Commissioner directed the meeting open for the testimony of all, those in possession of "the new heart." For twenty minutes or so some very God-forsaking and convincing testimony of Christ was given. Believed with Him that believeth on the Son of God hath the witness in himself: he that believeth not the record that God hath given to His Son. And this is the record, that God hath given to us eternal life, and this life is in His Son. He that hath the Son of God, he that hath not the Son of God hath not life. —1 John V:10-12.

The Underlying Purpose

From the singing, the opening song our Leader had his "grip" on the meeting, and conducted it in a manner of which we have heard long years of experience in public work.

The underlying purpose of the service was to bring every man and woman to realize in his own heart the reality of the life of Christ to save; I want you to submit to Him.

He close, he impressed upon the congregation that they were in one of four classes—Viv, those who reject Christ, those who have accepted Him, or those who are in the process of accepting Him.

The evening meeting was a somewhat lengthy and hard-fought one, but the efforts were well worth while and God visibly used him as His mouthpiece. The Commissioner's aid of necessity to be turned away.

At the close of the day over the results aforementioned.

THROUGH THE SALVATION TELESCOPE

THE GENERAL
Gives an Inspiring World-Survey—Glorious Inflow of Candidates and Waves of Soul-Saving—All Roads Lead to the Mercy-Seat—New Calls and Open Doors—Fiji, Solomon Islands, Morocco—Strengthening The Army by Consolidation—Officers' Maintenance Problem

First Part of an Interview by a Special Representative of the British War Cry

"GENERAL, you are back; you have looked round the world, had your conferences, come to rest, and you are back again. Will you be good enough to tell The War Cry how things are going?"

The Watchman on the walls, surveying alike the distant prospect and the near, replied instantly to the question with a peak-up accent that betrayed both his eagerness and his enthusiasm.
"My heart has been lifted up, and filled with gratitude to God," he said, "by the signs of progress in almost every land. Tell our readers everywhere that there are some things especially which make my soul to leap for joy and all that is within me to praise the Lord!"

Increase in Candidates. "You know how my great anxiety as to the supply of Officers to meet the increasing demands of our work has of late years been augmented by the tremendous orders through which the world has passed? Yet here I come back from my long journey and find that, taking into account those during my campaigns in Australia and New Zealand, practically every country in the world has at this moment more Candidates ready for service than it is able to train. This is literally true of the Old Country also. Not only are we crowded out—indeed, dangerously overcrowded—at Glasgow, but Mrs. Booth could have brought in even more had it been possible to provide accommodation for them and the Staff necessary to their training."

"In not this plentiful? Are we not justified in saying that it is the hand of God upon us for good? And especially in view of the fact that more and more of our Young People, many of them the very finest of material, are pressing up to the altar of consecration and service and beseeching us to take their lives and use them for the salvation of the people."

"Thrilling News of Soul-Saving. 'I am also in the Land of Ephraim over the soul-saving work going on in many lands. For instance, the bells are ringing in my heart at news that the United States has been placed in the United States; while from Scandinavia comes intelligence of increasing rolls. My efforts in Australia and New Zealand have been rewarded by a fresh impulse in this direction, and success is being crowned with success.'

"A similar cry has reached me from the Solomon Islands, where dwell the celebrated Kanakas—perhaps the finest of the Island races of the world in respect of their industry and ability for hard work. Numbers of them have been converted in Queensland, where I saw some who had remained in the faith since their conversion. It has been a great triumph for these promising people if only the same noble and noble spirit could be seen in the hearts of the people."

"Here, again, is an extract, a repetition of an old appeal, from Bulgaria: 'The Salvation Army is doing a wonderful work in Bulgaria. It has come to life in Romania and speaking of the great opportunities there for a valiant Salvation attack. This, in effect, is the plea contained in a letter from a member of the French Embassy in Morocco. It was lately in Lyons, where I saw your splendid Home for Women. Do come and begin work in Morocco! We will supply the means.' As for the cry from Spain, it wounds me deeply to have to leave it unanswered."

"But we are advancing in many directions, General?"
"Praise God, yes! What a marvellous chance we have in Burma, for example—land offered by the government, a considerable sum of money provided, and all that is wanted are Officers in language undertaking. But I am going on in faith!"

New African Ventures. "As for Africa, here are Brigadier Souter and his wife, with a party of twelve West Indian Officers, are about to arrive in this country in a day or two—going out to pioneer for The Army West-Indies. There is no joy more immense! Think of Nigeria alone, and the opportunity such a venture will afford us for a long time to come."

"And East Africa, on the other side of the great Dark Continent?"
"We are not overlooking its claims. Lt.-Colonel James Smith is already on his way to East Africa. Think of the needs and clamour, and of the many who will come to us here, we will love you and help you, and our people will bless you!"

"There is India, where reinforcements are still the first need. But at the same time there are unequalled opportunities for extension. We must, for one thing, do more in the matter of education. What do I mean by that term? Salvation education, education which includes hand training as well as mind training, and education in the love of God and service of man. Further, my heart is trembling on the edge of a decision with regard to South China—lots with regard to our hopes and possibilities for the whole of those vast masses of people I have no time to catalogue just now."

It may be mentioned to this connection that on Monday afternoon and evening, Oct. 4, The General will conduct Missionary Dedication Demonstrations in the Central Hall, Westminster. Among the forewelling Officers will be some who are going to help us in Africa as well as in other countries."

An encouraging feature, and one that has been bearing upon our work, is the fact that the Salvation Army is developing. That is, our leadership is ever getting closer to the work. Proof of this is seen in the fact that of three new Territories, independent of each other, in India, in place of one Community, which has hitherto served, then, as the Cry has just announced, I have approved of the construction of three Territories in the same area, which, although not at present enjoying the full independence of separate Territories, seeing that the time being they are grouped under the oversight of Commander Eva Booth, nevertheless represent an important step in the closer consolidation of all our operations in that vast community of nations.

Important Australian Change. "Next, I have sanctioned the division which will come into force early next year, at the present Australian Territory into two Territories, with Headquarters and Training Centres in Melbourne and Sydney respectively. Commissioner Hay remains in Australia for a short while longer in order to carry through this important change. You will be aware, too, that Newfoundland is now a 'free Territory'."

The General became gravely thoughtful as he proceeded:
"These extensions all involve a heavy strain as the leaders everywhere but we must not forget the strain also on Officers of the lower ranks. Just now I am struggling with the great problem in the fact that the salaries paid to the bulk of Officers of every rank are proving inadequate to meet the tremendous increase in the cost of the barest livelihood, and I really do not know exactly what to do to meet this need. It is quite clear that many Corps and Divisions could supply what is wanting; but it is terribly obvious that others cannot. How the deficiency is to be met—that is the problem."

God Our Helper! "Something of the same difficulty applies to many of the Territorial Headquarters throughout the world. Officers at these centres are often more hard-worked, and carry even greater burdens, than their comrades in pastures elsewhere. Yet many of them are suffering very severe deprivations in a beautiful spirit of acquiescence and loyalty. For me, notwithstanding, their needs involve the provision of very large sums of money. When I say large, I mean that a thousand pounds or two here and there is of comparatively little use. But God has helped us in the past, and He will help us again. His love redeems every true lover of His Kingdom, and especially on everyone who suffers in His cause. He will not fail us!"

This is but a portion of an interview which we are sure will be read with deep interest, and the balance of which we are reserving for publication in the future issues. In this The General deals with refreshing vigor with the tremendous drink question, and especially the effects of prohibition in Canada, and the States, and the desirability of its application to the Old Country. He also has a word of grave importance for the end of every Salvationist.

The sower of the seed is assuredly the author of the whole harvest of mischief.—Domestics.

When a few words will rescue misery out of her distress, I hate the man who can be a churl of them.—Starna.

Christ was once offered to bear the sins of many; and those that look for Him shall see His second time, without sin, unto salvation.—Hebrews ix:28.

When we were enemies we were reconciled to God by the death of His Son.—Romans v:10.

If thou do ill the joy fades, not the pain.
If well, the pain will fade, the joy remain.

I love such mirth as does not make friends ashamed to look upon the other each morning.—Isaac Walton.
